1.0 School profile

Weeroona College Bendigo is located on the northern side of Bendigo and currently caters for 820 P-10 students. The college council has recently made a decision to phase out the primary section of our college which will enable us to focus on the Bendigo Education Plan. We have strong partnerships with the other three Bendigo 7 to 10 colleges and Bendigo Senior Secondary College and our Network schools. This year has seen half our students occupy stage one of our new school that support 21st century curriculum and pedagogy and allow for stage related learning for each individual student who will belong to 1 of 4 learning communities. We offer a balanced core curriculum for our junior students and those in years 9 &10 study a mix of core and electives including VET and VCE subjects. Opportunities for students are enhanced by a strong emphasis on leadership development programs including the Youth Development program. We have a strong tradition in the Arts including a well supported instrumental music program, bands, arts spectaculars and musical productions. We have a strong sporting program and our students perform exceptionally well in a large range of sports. We work hard to ensure that all our students are safe and supported in their learning environment.

2.0 Whole-school prevention statement

Weeroona College Bendigo strives ‘To have a high level of student wellbeing where students are motivated and engaged with a strong sense of connectedness to their peers, the school and their teachers.’

Our core values are:

- Respect - Accepting difference and treating others with empathy and tolerance.
- Integrity - behaving truthfully, in a trustworthy manner and taking responsibility for one’s actions.
- Personal excellence – Seeking to perform at one’s own highest possible standard.

Weeroona College Bendigo is a community of students, parents and teachers committed to providing a safe, secure and engaging learning environment. The college focuses on relationships between all members of the school community through Restorative Practices. Restorative Practice focuses on relationship development and uses frameworks, strategies and language with staff, students and families to promote a culture of respect that allows for restoration when managing injustice and hurt. The philosophy of restorative justice encourages schools to shift their thinking from a traditional model of punishment to one of education, accountability and meaningful change. It provides schools with a set of guidelines to manage even the most confronting behaviours. Restorative justice views wrong doing as a violation of people and relationships. When wrong doing occurs it is concerned with healing and repairing those individuals and their relationships. In this sense it strengthens feelings of caring, belonging and community among school members.

The restorative teacher views wrong doings as an opportunity for learning. They use methods that develop social and emotional knowledge and skills. They create safe environments by using processes that treat all participants fairly and with respect and dignity. Their discussions are concerned with reconnecting people and repairing relationships. They focus on the needs of everybody including the wrongdoer.

Weeroona College Bendigo’s Student Engagement Policy will focus on:
- creating a positive school culture that is fair and respectful
- building a safe and supportive school environment
- expecting positive, supportive and respectful relationships that value diversity
- promoting pro-social values and behaviours
- encouraging student participation and student voice
- proactively engaging with parents/carers
- implementing preventative and early intervention approaches
- responding to individual students
- links to the local community.

2.1 Principles

The Weeroona College Student Code Of Conduct Is Based On The Following Principles of Restorative Practice:

- Foster awareness in the student of how others have been affected.
- Avoid scolding and lecturing. This often results in the student reacting defensively. It distracts them from noticing other people’s feelings.
- Involve the student actively. Instead of simply doling out punishment, which the student is expected to accept passively, in a restorative intervention, the student is asked to speak. They face and listen to those who have been affected by their inappropriate behaviour. They help decide how to repair the harm and make a commitment to this, therefore allowing the student to be held accountable.
- Accept ambiguity. Often fault is unclear and people can agree to accept the ambiguous situation.
- Separate the deed from the doer. We can recognise a student’s worth, their virtues and accomplishments while disapproving of the behaviour.
- See every instance of wrongdoing and conflict as an opportunity for learning. Negative incidents can be used constructively to build empathy and a sense of community in the hope that there is a reduction of negative incidents in the future.
• Restorative practices must be systemic, not situational. Every attempt on an individual level to use these principles needs to be well supported by the broader system.

Weeroona College Bendigo acknowledges positive behaviour in a variety of ways and through various structured reward systems.

2.2 Whole-school strategies and programs to engage and motivate students.

As an effective school Weeroona College Bendigo will promote and maintain high levels of student attendance and participation through:

• articulating high expectations to all members of the school community
• adopting consistent, rigorous procedures to monitor and record student absence
• following up student absences promptly and consistently
• implementing data-driven attendance improvement strategies
• creating safe, supportive learning environments where all students experience success through active participation and engagement in purposeful learning
• providing early identification of and supportive intervention for students at risk of non-attendance
• linking with local community groups and agencies to maximise program and individual support
• providing a staged response

The Student Engagement Policy, the Engagement and Wellbeing goals and targets in the School Strategic Plan and Annual Implementation Plans provide the development of whole-school strategies that foster full student attendance and participation.

A whole-college approach to attendance identifies effective prevention and early intervention strategies as follows:

• clearly written and verbal statements made regularly to parents/carers and students about school and community attendance expectations.
• clearly articulated college based policies – Bullying & Harassment, Cybersafety and ICT Usage and Anaphylaxis.
• promoting awareness that student absences result in quantifiable lost learning time and opportunities.
• whole-school modelling of punctuality.
• school rewards program- whole school, Learning community, Advisory based.
• delegation of responsibilities to all staff, with key members of staff leading attendance improvement initiatives.
• regular discussions on student attendance in staff meetings and in the staff performance and development review process.
• implementation of effective and supportive transition programs ,including student transitions between different learning areas and levels within the school, and pathways and careers support programs.
• class and home group structures and environments that enable opportunities for increased connectedness to individual teachers and peers.
• Individual Student Learning Plans, including attendance and punctuality goals.
• provision of out-of-school programs, including breakfast, homework and sporting clubs.

Drug and Sexual Health Education
All students at Years 7 & 8 will have a dedicated Health subject for one semester each year. At years 9 & 10 a range of Health based electives are offered. Within these subjects, such as Physical Education, students will be presented with a range of opportunities to learn about relationships and ways in which conflict and peer pressure can be managed.
Further Drug Education will be undertaken to help inform them of factual information about a range of legal and illegal drugs as well as age appropriate Harm Minimisation Strategies that they can use in a variety of situations.
Further Sexual Health Education will be undertaken to help inform them of factual information about a range of Sexual Health and Reproductive issues as well as age appropriate safe sex practices and understanding of strategies that they can use in a variety of situations.
Further access to help and support agencies within the community will also be provided.

3.1 Equal Opportunity

The Equal Opportunity Act 1995 sets out the types or grounds of discrimination that are unlawful and aims to promote community recognition and acceptance of the equality of men and women, and the equality of people of all races, regardless of their religious or political convictions, their impairments or their age.

Under the act it is unlawful to discriminate against a person on the basis of the following attributes:
- age
- breastfeeding
- gender identity
- impairment
- industrial activity
- lawful sexual activity
- marital status
- parental status or status as carer
• physical features
• political belief or activity
• pregnancy
• race
• religious belief or activity
• sex
• sexual orientation
• personal association (with a person who is identified by reference to any of the above attributes).

3.2 The Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006

The Charter sets out a list of 20 rights that reflect the following four basic principles:
• Freedom
• Respect
• Equality
• Dignity

The charter outlines a vision of human rights for all Victorians. The charter affirms that all people are born free and equal in dignity and rights. While the charter demands equality for all, it also emphasises the value of difference. The charter requires public authorities, including government schools and their employees, to act compatibly with human rights and to consider human rights when making decisions and delivering services.

• The right not to be discriminated against
• The right to privacy and reputation
• The right to freedom of thought, conscience, religion and belief
• Cultural rights

It is important to understand that with human rights comes a responsibility to respect other human rights.

All DEECD employees must act compatibly with the Charter and give proper consideration to human rights when making decisions. Everyone should:
• Encourage compliance with the Charter
• Support others to act compatibly with the Charter, and
• Respect and promote human rights

Part of the monitoring of Human Rights will be to complete the Charter Compliance Checklist on the School Compliance web site.
3.3 Students with Disabilities

The Disability Standards for Education 2005 clarify and make more explicit the obligations on schools and the rights of students under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992. The standards cover enrolment, participation, curriculum development, student support services, and harassment and victimisation.

An education provider must make ‘reasonable adjustments’ to accommodate a student with a disability. An adjustment is a measure or action taken to assist a student with disability to participate in education and training on the same basis as other students. An adjustment is reasonable if it does this while taking into account the student’s learning needs and balancing the interests of all parties affected, including those of the student with the disability, the education provider, staff and other students.

In determining whether an adjustment is reasonable, an education provider should take into account information about:

- the nature of the student’s disability
- his or her preferred adjustment
- any adjustments that have been provided previously
- any recommended or alternative adjustments.

This information might come from the student, an associate of the student, independent experts, or a combination of these people.

An education provider should ensure that the student, or an associate of the student, has timely information about the processes for determining whether the proposed adjustment would cause unjustifiable hardship to the provider. The provider should also ensure that these processes maintain the dignity, respect, privacy and confidentiality of the student and the associates of the student, consistent with the rights of the rest of the community.

The provider may consider all likely costs and benefits, both direct and indirect, for the provider, the student and any associates of the student, and any other persons in the learning or wider community, including:

- costs associated with additional staffing, providing special resources or modifying the curriculum
- costs resulting from the student’s participation in the learning environment, including any adverse impact on learning and social outcomes for the student, other students and teachers
- benefits of the student’s participation in the learning environment, including positive learning and social outcomes for the student, other students and teachers, and
- financial incentives, such as subsidies or grants, available to the provider if the student participates.

The DDA and the Education Standards do not require changes to be made if this would impose unjustifiable hardship to a person or organisation.

5.0 School actions and consequences

To help our students become more responsible for their behaviour, there are (related) consequences that follow when rules are not followed. In some cases the choice of the consequence will be at the discretion of the teacher depending upon severity and frequency of the misbehaviour.

The school has a behaviour/Consequence process that it follows.

Good behaviour is acknowledged and rewarded at a Learning Community and whole school level.

5.1 Discipline procedures

Suspension and expulsion

When considering suspension or expulsion, Weeroona College Bendigo follows the procedures listed in section 4.3 of the DEECD guidelines published in Effective Schools are Engaging Schools: Student Engagement Policy Guidelines. A student is only excluded from WCB in situations where all other measures have been implemented without success or where an immediate suspension is the only appropriate course of action in response to the student’s behaviour.

Consequences which may be used prior to suspension include:

• Withdrawal of privileges.

• Withdrawal from class if a student’s behaviour significantly interferes with the rights of other students to learn or the capacity of a teacher to teach a class, that student may be temporarily isolated from regular classroom activities or, in more severe cases, required to leave the classroom for a specified period of time. Where appropriate, parents/carers will be informed of such withdrawals.

• Lunchtime Detention - teachers may require a student to finish school work that has not been completed in the regular classroom or to undertake additional or new work or duties at a reasonable time and place. No more than half the time allocated for any lunchtime may be used for this work.

• Weekend Detention - students may be required to attend 9.00am – 12 noon on a Saturday morning to complete school work or undertake tasks around the college. eg picking up of litter. The principal shall ensure that parents/carers are informed the week of Weekend Detention. Where family circumstances are such that the completion of a Weekend Detention shall create undue hardship (for example, cost of travel), the school may choose to negotiate alternative disciplinary measures with parents/carers.

- Convening of a support group (See Effective Schools are Engaging Schools - Student Engagement Policy Guidelines for process required).
